"In the past few years, we have witnessed a lot of malicious processes that can cause damage to your system or have the potential to do so. Most of the time, the culprits are ad-supported programs that can bring their owners to lose their money, time or privacy. These programs are very widespread and their number will continue to increase. Sometimes you'll find out that a process is active even if it is not running. It's because the task you were working on or the game you were playing was interrupted and instead of ending the process, you're starting another one that you didn't know about and want to end. We have decided to create a process monitor that will be useful for anyone who wants to quickly end the process that is active. In addition, we've added a few features that will make it easier to use, including a faster process termination, hotkey and customizable features. Main functionalities: - Terminate the process that is active. - Show the active processes. - Customizable hotkey to terminate the process that is active. - Preferences window with a few features: "Hide this icon", "Hide on Windows logon" and "Disable Terminate Active Processes on Hotkey". - Process listings." 8. Downloads - Users are able to create and manipulate shortcuts in the system environment. Programs such as Mozilla Firefox and Microsoft Internet Explorer require multiple shortcut icons to be used to access their respective features. These shortcuts usually comprise of a keyboard sequence, a folder location, the software program file and the filename that should be entered. The default programs are installed in the system environment and can be accessed from the Start menu and the Desktop. Description: "Hide Icon – Manually hide the shortcut that was created through the defaults." 10. Features - Minimum requirements: OS: Windows 2000, Windows XP, Windows Vista, Windows 7, Windows 8/8.1/10 Processor: Intel Pentium 1 GHz Memory: 1024 MB RAM Hard drive: 20 GB free space Additional programs: 12. Installation instructions - - [IMG] User clicks on the shortcut.exe icon to begin the installation. The active shortcut will be listed as well.
