Use this app to compose and read a document, making it easier to check for syntax mistakes and misspelled words. From the main menu choose "New", and open a text or HTML file. Then make sure the woman's voice is selected in the option panel, open the "Options" tab, and change the greeting preferences. The voice speed and the rate can also be adjusted from there. You can find other options under "Options" for the woman's greeting, stream number and speaker, speaker's rate, audio quality, and volume. From the "Options" tab you can modify the playlist window display, and change the settings to stay on top of other apps, and set the status bar to hide or show. Rizon Voice Screenshots: Sponsored Links Bookmark Reviews I use this app regularly to check for misspelled words (via voice recognition), and I've never had an issue with it doing this. I use it in conjunction with the built-in spell checker in the OS. I am very picky with my written work, so I had high hopes that it would easily correct my typos and misspelled words. Unfortunately, this is not the case. Even if it does find a word correctly spelled, it cannot remove the extra one. For example, I'd write the word "tooth" and it would read it as "tooth", which is correct. However, when I press the "redo" button, I'd type "doth", and it would read "tooth". I have found that most voice app's do not have a way to specify which apps are allowed to interact with their voice enabled windows. This app does not. If you have this set, make sure you read all of the settings. Also, the ads on this app are constant. Uninstall immediately if you get them. I use this app on a daily basis to read doc's from the web, or to listen to my wife's voice reading the words to her work voice, as it used to be in life. This app just works! I had serious problems with the people who developed this app's and the App store for allowing them to earn a commission by having it on my App Store. They did not fix the problem so that you could remove the app for a set time like 3 months. I use this app with one of my eBooks and it works great. I make everything up with natural sounding voices.
