Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a camera using a built-in memory, such as, for example, an electronic still camera. 2. Description of the Related Art A storage capacity of memory is increasing by the year as the functionality of electronic still cameras improves. An example of the types of memory using electronic still cameras include the following four types: (1) memory card, (2) internal memory, (3) integrated memory, and (4) memory of a built-in type. Of these, a memory card has a small capacity, but it is easy to exchange. For this reason, it is mainly used in the form of a removable medium. An internal memory has a large capacity, but the memory is fixed in a body of the electronic still camera. In the case of a built-in type memory, it is impossible to use the memory as a removable medium. However, the memory of the built-in type is effective in improving a service life. Because of the improvement in the service life, no problem occurs even if the memory malfunctions. This is a big advantage of the built-in type memory. On the other hand, in the case of the memory card, there are a large number of types of standards for memory capacity, data transfer rate e79caf774b
