Motion technology and the netball shooting system also make their debut in the sports game. Motion capture sessions for player actions in “Best-of-Three” and “Best-of-Nine” competitions used equipment from 241. In addition to the new gameplay features, the new “Football Stadium” mode sees the return of the iconic Santiago Bernabéu Stadium in Madrid. The famous stadium will be modelled after Real Madrid’s home ground, the Allianz Stadium, and can be used as a training environment in career mode. The “World Tour” mode returns to showcase the greatest stadiums and has been expanded to add a host of new competitions and challenges, while FIFA Ultimate Team has been further enhanced to be more player-driven. FIFA 21 introduced career mode and progression in-game, with Career Mode allowing players to progress through every aspect of their football journey, from being a promising youth player to a seasoned international. This time around, players will be able to develop their players and join professional teams from the very beginning. The new Player Path will allow players to make one-off transfers during their career, while Club Manager will replace Ultimate Team in Career Mode and allows players to manage a club with an entire roster of players. The Online Pass gives players access to all online games, with new features ensuring the authenticity of FIFA 22 gameplay. The FIFA e-Athlete Network connects with “athlete” non-end users who can share their online gameplay and get feedback from the EA SPORTS development team. Aiming and Volleyball will also be included in FIFA 22, the first time a new gameplay feature has been added since FIFA 14. FIFA Ultimate Team fans will be able to dominate the offline FIFA Ultimate Team Ladder and battle online against one-another. FIFA 20 was the most-played game in EA SPORTS history, with over 36 million units sold. In addition to the global success of that game, the franchise continues to capture the hearts of its fans around the world, as reflected in the passionate feedback EA has received from them through the “Bugs You Can Vote On” initiative. FIFA 20 received a score of 88/100 on aggregator Metacritic, and a player rating of 9.3/10 on PlayStation 4. FIFA 22 is scheduled to release worldwide on Windows PC, PlayStation 4, and Xbox One on September 27. To

See more FIFA features on EA SPORTS FIFA 20 Reveal Trailer. To experience these features in FIFA 21, you must update your game from September 25. Below is a list of the upcoming features in FIFA 22. STORIES: INTEGRATE YOUR MANAGERS Player Stories in FIFA 21 are the center of the game and will bring memorable moments to life. As your Manager, you will have the opportunity to take charge of your player's tales of glory and heartbreak as well as develop new tactics and team strategies. Including over 500 new player roles, stories will help shape the evolution of your team throughout the season. STORY MODE AND ACHIEVEMENTS In the epic Story Mode, you will take the reins of different stars with distinct individual stories. Your player's goal in story mode is to achieve a set number of achievements and level up in order to level up your player. Every player that appears in Story Mode will be dynamically customizable. Want to make that Brazilian player a better center-back? Make them a midfielder for the sake of your story. PROTECT YOUR THREAT: DEFEND AND ESCAPE In an already demanding gameplay environment, athletes are at risk of injury, and players will be protected in and out of possession to ensure that your player's health is maintained at all times. FIFA 22 will introduce an auto-protection system that will help ensure that your squad is healthy, and your stars can take on the toughest opponent. It will include: • "Auto Protection" system • "Auto Transition" system • "Auto Carry" system ANIMATION: WHO'S YOUR FAVORITE? Your player will be stylized, animated and will bring an enhanced soccer experience to your FIFA game. • 50+ Player Animations • Over 200+ Unique Player Skins • Player Bio and Sound PLAYER STATS AND INFO: TOUCH THE GAME AND ANALYZE Powered by Pro Evolution Soccer, FIFA offers an innovative platform of in-game tools that allows players to customize the game experience for the players they're playing on. · Player Radar & Tactics · Player Data · Player Path
