After googling a bit about it, I came across the app for iOS as well, and I ordered one. The app itself is very easy to use and the information you want is displayed in a very user friendly way. When you want to start the app, it will check if you have enough data to work with, and if it hasn't, a 5$ credit will be added to your "credit store" and then you can work with it. After you are ready, you can work through the three levels of progress, and the app will give you feedback on the level you are on, and if you have skipped levels or done a few more or fewer tasks, you can adjust it. As you do the tasks, you get more information on your progress and you can see how to structure your tasks for when you have more time. Some of the possible reward options are as follows: 1) 25$ extra credit for a week, 2) a reward task of your choice for 20$ 3) completing a 25$ course, and completing the quiz on the app as well as on the web page to unlock the course. 4) completing a 50$ course, and completing the quiz on the app as well as on the web page to unlock the course. 5) submitting and submission bonus of either 50$ or 100$. Size: 2,6 MB (+0,7 MB in background) Application Type: Universal OS Support: Windows 7/8/10 Requirements :
- Windows 2000 (SP4), XP (SP3) or Vista (SP2) - Windows Server 2003 (SP2) - Windows Server 2008 (SP2) - Windows Server 2008 R2 (SP2) NetSiemens Wireless Inspector Professional is a tool that provides you with important data and information about your Siemens NetSiemens Wireless IP/Base Station, such as RSSI value and power consumption, that will help you identify whether a new base station is functioning properly or if the base station is faulty. With NetSiemens Wireless Inspector Professional you will be able to automatically detect the RSSI value of a base station to determine whether it is faulty or if it is fully functional. Besides, the software also provides you with other important information such as Base station name, IP address, and MAC address.
Further, the Base station power consumption value along with the available IP version and Base station firmware version will also be displayed so that you can diagnose problems with the station from the beginning.
Thus, in order to use this tool you will just need a Siemens NetSiemens Wireless IP/Base Station. NetSiemens HealthMonitor is a tool that allows you to monitor the IP/Base Station network link quality. This includes: Signal strength (RSSI), Interference level, and Interference level/signal. There are also options where you can configure start, stop or reboot the equipment on a schedule that you set up. This is ideal for an automated daily monitoring of your Base Station. While configuration is simple, you need to select the equipment you want to monitor and a filter for the signal strength (RSSI) to be displayed. Also, it can help you identify any problems in the network link. For example, it can help identify an IP/Base Station that has switched IP and MAC addresses, or a device that has failed. NetSiemens Network Configuration Tool is a tool that allows you to easily connect to your Base Station and configure your network parameters such as: Station Name, IP Address, and MAC Address. Once connected, you will be able to configure the station for OTA functionality, allow or
