Business Magnate 2022

Business Magnate is a tycoon business simulation game where you can create and manage all types of companies: Cars, rockets, phones, tanks, trucks, airplanes, computers, ships. Design, produce, market and sell them! Start up your own company in the game and begin to build and expand your business empire! Design offices, warehouses, production facilities: where you produce your goods and companies are able to function effectively. Do you use a square or hexagonal or wedge shaped office space? Does your company have to have certain fixed buildings or can they be moved to where the market is? How long will it take for your company to produce products? How much can be produced in a day? Product types: while there are many parts of your buildings, cars, ships and other products that you design to produce, make sure you have a good inventory at hand! That way, you can prepare as much as possible so that you're not missing out on any orders during production. Test your products: before you launch them into the market, you want to test them! Do you want to sell to the global market? Do you want to focus on a particular market? Do you want to produce and ship your goods? If you do so, what will happen? Create Products: you can start companies to produce different types of goods, ranging from cars to rockets, ships to airplanes, computers to clothes, and so on. You can sell them in the global market or choose to focus on a particular market. Be a Business Magnate!: be the ultimate Business Magnate by designing, producing, marketing and selling your products and services. You can start up multiple companies at the same time and run them all at the same time. Company management: how do you monitor the production for your companies? What sorts of staff do you have at your company? What kinds of offices do you need? Market: what is the market for your products or companies? You need to start with the basics so that you're able to keep up with your needs and wants. Market for Companies: what prices do you need to offer your customers? To keep a competitive market, you can raise your prices, lower your prices or launch new products to your customers. If you use the right marketing strategy, your customers won't turn away from you. Company Management: be a business magnate by starting up your own company. Design, produce, market and sell your products. Keep track of your company at the same time. d41b202975

What's new in Business Magnate:

Execs Vs Business Folk When I was growing up, they called us kids “Doggone Kids.” This epithet was most often seen if a grownup would scold the other grownup for an innocently said or done thing they thought was quite wrong. That’s right, we weren’t supposed to say “Well, I guess I’d like to know what good it is if I am doing things for nothing.” And so on ... We weren’t supposed to be so dumb. Now, being at about 69 years of age, I no longer ponder why I grew up as a somewhat simple young man, with some substantial limitations, or why things just felt that way ... although many of us grow up thinking that we have great wisdom about life, and some reason or special insight and understanding into the nature of life. Every generation wants to think they are especially clever, a new way of thinking, or maybe even a more profound understanding of life - I find such arrogance ridiculous - I want nothing to do with it. Sometimes it is just because one is too young to understand one’s own place and value, and often at least some of that respect is a pity, to shield someone so young and naive from their own stupidity, but one must learn all one’s life. That is part of the going-on-without-thinking part of being young. I have learned that some of us grow up so absolutely determined to see the whole world as we do, and that we are an extension of ourselves, and in having many of us much more organized than ourselves, never fully aware of the horribleness of arrogance and a super focus on the self - and so we know ourselves much less clearly, and so we project our feelings onto the world, or at least our personal version of the world - just as their version of the world is different than mine. With the rise of the third generation, having been born in the 1960’s, and growing up in the Post World War II/Cold War/Reagan-Bush era of the 1980’s, we are a group fully focused on being competitive in every way, and totally oblivious to or not caring about the importance of contributions and the degrees of “serving some organization/society/race” that one is doing it - Many of us never notice that we don’t think so differently from the
