LeThe present invention relates to a capacitor, and more particularly, to a stack capacitor having at least two capacitive layers to make it usable as a power capacitor. Recently, there has been increased the demand for capacitors and size reduction of electronic components, and accordingly an increased demand for a large-capacity power capacitor has arisen. To this end, development of a power capacitor having a high capacitance per unit volume and low current resistance has been in progress. For example, Japanese Laid-Open Patent Publication No. 8-26610 discloses a method of producing a power capacitor having a structure capable of obtaining a high capacitance. In this method, a first capacitor element, which is made of a paracapacitor, and a second capacitor element, which is made of a paracapacitor and a stack capacitor, 6d1f23a050
