

CISA is the easiest exam I have ever taken. . I am going to work with 3 years technical consulting experience (data and analytics) in the financial services industry. No experience in consulting, only in financial marketing in a company that specializes in financial services. . I don't know what to do when you say "I don't know how to do this" to someone and get the answer "I don't know how to do this". . What can I do? I know it's very effective for me to just look at people and tell them they don't know what to do. . What if I say I think they know something but don't know what, and they tell me they know. .
