Play.A guide to skin health There are many variables that can affect our skin: sun exposure, stress, toxins, aging. We know some of the top issues, but what about the 'minor' problems? This kit has simple, delicious recipes to help you fix the skin issues and improve your skin health. All you need is an ingredient and two tablespoons of aquafaba (the brine from a carton of chickpeas). Starting a skin-care regime is similar to starting any healthy lifestyle. Give a little water to your ingredients! The aquafaba has been shown to be effective in hydrating the skin and your skin will feel soft. Use this as your base for your skin-care recipe and focus on hydrating your skin. For a more specific recipe, check out the Hydrating Skin-care recipe. Coconut oil is beneficial to skin for many reasons. It has powerful antioxidants and has a pH of 9, which means it's great for the skin. If you're in the mood for a little DIY, take a spoon of your aquafaba and add a few drops of coconut oil to it. Pour the mixture into a dish or bowl and mix it up. It's super easy to make! Make sure your diet is optimal for your skin. Some skin concerns can be traced to a diet full of toxins or overly processed foods. An example is dry, flaky skin. Eating fiber and vegetables helps keep
